20th November 2016

Feast of Christ the King

This Sunday we celebrate the Feast of Christ the King marking the final day of the church's Liturgical calendar. Power, wealth, pomp and military might are images that come to mind when thinking of kingship. These images are in stark contrast to the Gospel readings. There are no palaces, no pomp or ceremony, instead a man jeered and humiliated hanging on a cross. The king we are celebrating is one who came, not to be served but to serve. A king who opens his kingdom to the poor and those on the very fringes of society.

St Michael's Parish..

Looking to the Future

As we prepare for the changes that will take place in our parish in the coming months, (spoken about last week) this is an opportunity for all of us to view this change in a positive light. This new reality, though challenging, is a time of great possibility for our parish community. Group discussions will be ongoing, not only to respond to some immediate practical issues, but also to explore ways of bringing about a more inclusive and vibrant parish community.

It is very encouraging to see parishioners responding positively to the Wednesday morning Service of Communion and Liturgy of the Word,

Differences of Opinion He Tells Her

*'He tells her that the earth is flat
He knows the facts, and that is that in altercations fierce and long.
She tries her best to prove him wrong.
But he has learned to argue well.
He calls her arguments unsound
And often asks her not to yell.
She cannot win
He stands his ground.'*

The planet goes on being round.'

This poem written by English poet Wendy Cope went viral following the recent U.S. election. Wonder why!
